

Resources for Exploring Careers in Health Care

Before you decide to embark on a career in health care (or any field for that matter!), it is important to do your homework. Use the links below to explore various health-related careers so that you can begin to get an idea of which professions will best fit your skills, interests, values, and personality. You can then test out any areas of interest by taking appropriate prerequisite coursework and engaging in relevant clinical experiences. Remember to meet with a prehealth advisor to discuss your goals & plans!

Career One Stop

Identify your interests, explore careers, learn about getting experience, & options for education.

<http://www.careeronestop.org/studentsandcareeradvisors/studentsandcareeradvisors.aspx>

My Health Career

Links to explore health careers, internships, trainings programs, & more.

<http://www.myhealthcareer.org/>

New York Career Zone

Click on Health Services to explore health-related careers.

<https://www.careerzone.ny.gov/views/careerzone/index.jsf>

New York Health Careers

Provides information on various health careers.

<http://www.healthcareersinfo.net/>

Occupational Outlook Handbook

Search for information on various health professions using the search engine at the top of the page or the links on the left-hand side.

<http://www.bls.gov/ooh/>