

Jacobs School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences (JSMBS) at the University at Buffalo is proud to announce the

Early Opportunity Program in Medicine (EOPIM)

The EOPIM is a pre-admission program for qualified students from traditionally underrepresented backgrounds that will lead to entry into the JSMBS MD program.

Speak with your pre-health/pre-medical program advisor about the nomination process!

- Inform your premedical advisor by mid-October of your sophomore year about your interest in applying for EOPIM.

By December 15 of each year, premedical advisors will inform the EOPIM about their intended pool of applicants.

Intent to Apply

Application Deadline

- The application deadline date is February 15th.

- The JSMBS Medical Admissions Committee will invite selected students for in-person or Skype interviews between late March and mid April.

Interview Process

Admissions Decision

- Admissions decisions will be made by May 15th.

Once You Are Accepted:

- You will continue undergraduate studies at your school for the duration of your current academic program, and are required to complete any medical school coursework prerequisites before graduation and maintain a GPA of 3.5 or better.
- You'll be invited to participate in one summer research experience at UB's CLIMB PRO program before graduation.
- You will interact with your future classmates through occasional in-person and online programming and activities.
- You must formally apply for admission to the medical school via the traditional channels during your senior year (AMCAS application, including MCAT score, and official transcripts).
- You will be on track to enter JSMBS the Fall semester after you graduate!
